SPRING MILLINERY, 1873.

MRS. OTTINGER

has now received the largest stock of Millinery
LADIES' FANCY AND FURNISHING GOODS
ever brought to this market. This stock was selected with the greatest care by Mrs. O. in person, and consists of an endless variety of

BONNETS AND HATS,
trimmed and untrimmed, FLOWERS in the greatest profusion,

2,000 Pieces of Ribbons.

Laces, Silks, 100 dozen pair KID GLOVES, we make this one of our specialties. Collar-trimmed, Ruffles of every description,

LADIES' SILK BOWS AND TIES,

Hair Goods, real and imitation, Ladies' Misses and Children's Hosiery, Undergarments, Ladies' Ready-made Dresses, Baby Dresses, Corsets, Covers, Corsets, Knitting and Crochet Cotton, White Trimmings of every kind, Silk and Cotton Fringes, Collars and Cuffs, real and imitation Laces, Lace Collars, Underclothes, and many other articles not here mentioned.

At OTTINGER'S you find the exact thing necessary, there you will not have to put up with a makeshift, which is often the case in a small store. While buying at is buying at the fountain head, at first hands, therefore the cheapest. All the novelties are there; all the quaint and original things in endless variety.

As a spectacle, it is better than a theatre. Go, young and old, with the former it will be a school of instruction, and with the latter it will have most desirable effect, and that is, it will revive their youth.

PEACE COTTON SEED FOR SALE

The undersigned has for sale a small quantity of cotton seed of last year's crop, which he can guarantee to be the best seed being superior to any ever raised in this State.

This Cotton grows in clusters of from 8 to 12 bolls, five to six to each boll, and produces forty pounds of lint from one hundred pounds of seed cotton.

It is a long staple, of a beautiful white fleecy appearance, and is almost equal in texture to the celebrated Sea Island cotton. The seed were originally procured by the undersigned in Mississippi, where they will grow to perfection.

A sample of the Peace Cotton Seed can be seen at the store of J. B. Stronach & Co., of Raleigh. For particulars apply to them, or to the undersigned, at Hillsdale, N. C.

GARDNER

FIRE EXTINGUISHER

AND

HOOK AND LADDER TRUCK EQUIPMENT,

Absolute Protection from Fire!

Gen. Wade Hampton, Says:

"THE GARDNER FIRE EXTINGUISHER has my hearty approval and recommendation in general introduction as a safe and efficacious protection against the risk of fire. The great benefit it has conferred in saving property, justly the confidence reposed in it."

FRUITS OF RADICALISM—AN ARCH IN LOUISIANA.

The policy the Administration has pursued towards the people of Louisiana may be denominated as simply infamy.

Louisiana is one of the richest and most productive States in the Union. Her lands are remarkably fertile, and her natural resources are almost boundless.

With a good State Government, with equitable and orderly laws, with security to life and property, with general domestic tranquillity and order, Louisiana would have bright prospects for a future of prosperity and wealth.

But the State is now cursed with an anarchy that paralyzes the efforts of her citizens and deranges the financial, commercial, agricultural, and all the other vital interests of her people.

There is an anxiety, a painful apprehension in the public mind—caused by the political troubles incident to the late State election, which is detrimental in the highest degree to the public welfare and industrial progress of the State.

The conspiracy against the taxpayers which is headed by the negro Pinchback, and which has resulted in placing the carpet-bagger Kellogg in possession of the Executive office through the misconduct and rascality of Durell, a Federal Judge, is not countenanced or supported by the honest masses of the State, by whom Kellogg is regarded as the rightful and legal Governor.

True to its Radical instincts, the Administration sustains Kellogg and his followers, and Federal bayonets are called in to prop the cause of the conspirators.

The people are organizing themselves into public leagues, to resist without force or violence the demands of the usurpers, by a peaceable refusal to pay taxes to the Kellogg officers, thus endeavoring to starve out the unlawful Government.

The situation of affairs is critical in the extreme. A bitter feeling prevails between the two parties, and in some parishes collisions are likely to occur.

Radicalism is bearing its legitimate fruits. Usurpation and judicial outrage, sustained by the strong arm of Federal authority, are opposed by the honest tax-payers and best citizens of the State, who will not yield without exhausting every peaceful means, to the power of legalized oppression and wrong.

The national Administration is responsible for the disgraceful and deplorable condition of affairs in Louisiana. It is a striking commentary on the decay of public virtue and of the love of liberty in America, to see the quiet acquiescence by the people, North and South, in the trampling down of every principle of Constitutional Government and of free institutions in a sovereign State.

DESTRUCTION OF SAN SALVADOR.

The papers are just beginning to discuss the destruction of the city of San Salvador by an earthquake.

We published a dispatch in the News on the 29th ultimo, to the effect that Panama dispatches of the 19th of March had been received, reporting the destruction of San Salvador on the 4th. On the 30th ult., we commented editorially on the rumor, which has recently been confirmed by later intelligence.

This calamity, which destroyed eight hundred human lives and twelve millions of dollars worth of property, is one of the most appalling on record. For various causes, however, it does not excite anything like the sensation produced by the loss of the Atlantic.

We give some particulars of the earthquake in another column.

IT NEVER RAINS BUT IT POURS—ANOTHER DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

At the election in Trenton, New Jersey, yesterday, the Democrats elected their candidate for Mayor and thirteen Councilmen to eight for the Radicals. Some of the Northern Republican newspapers at the North admit that these municipal elections, which have generally resulted in Democratic victories, have not turned altogether upon local causes, but have been influenced to some extent by the action of the Radical majority in Congress.

Credit Mobilier will continue to work until Radicalism is reformed.

O'KELLY TO BE PROTECTED.

A special dispatch to the New York Herald yesterday says that O'Kelly, the correspondent of that paper, who is confided by the Spanish authorities on the charge of being a spy is now under the protection of the British Consul Dunlop.

O'Kelly has been quite ill since his confinement.

There was one remarkable circumstance in the execution of Smith (for murder) at Louisville, lately. With his eyes appropriately closed, he stood upon the gallows and made a long prayer, all the time protesting his innocence; but when he finished this exculpatory ejaculation he opened his eyes and saw the rope he was to be hanged by.

Mr. James Downes, of Petersburg, Va., has been appointed Consul to some European port.

THE WESTERN NORTH CAROLINA ROAD.

The case of Clews, Sibley and others against the Western North Carolina Road came up before Judge Dick of the United States District Court, at Greensboro, on Monday last.

After the consumption of nearly a whole day in discussion by counsel touching the judgment and other matters relating to the Road, Judge Dick decided to appoint Maj. William A. Smith Receiver, to succeed Col. S. McD. Tate, who had been temporarily appointed to that position.

The State has taken an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States from the judgment of the District Court.

The affairs of the Road are in such a state of inextricable confusion that it is a difficult matter to get at the facts of the case.

The Governor has employed able and discreet counsel to represent the State's interest, and we believe they will do everything in their power for the protection of that interest.

In this as in all other Railroad wars, we have no concern except a desire to promote and uphold the cause of the State against speculators and monopolists.

Individual interests and the interests of Railroad cliques should be made subordinate to the public welfare. And when the question was before the Legislature last Winter, we favored the proposition made by Mr. Craig to the House, and Mr. Fleming in the Senate, authorizing the Governor to appeal on the part of the State from the decree of the District Court in favor of Clews and others against the Western Road, in order that the sacrifice of the State's interests in the Road might be prevented.

We wait the Western Road built but we do not wait it doubled up by speculators, who will run the Road for their own personal advantage—regardless of the public convenience and to the public injury.

In their eager desire to get possession of the Western Road, the Southern Security Company is looking solely at its own interests, and will build the Road or not, just as it may suit the wishes and welfare of its proprietors. No thought of any advantages that may accrue to the public, no motive of accommodation to the people, no policy save that dictated by considerations of self-interest, can reasonably be expected from the Southern Security or any other Railroad Company, in which the State has not a controlling interest.

THE WAR OF EXTERMINATION.

As we anticipated, the New York papers, with considerable editorials, are calling for the extermination of the Modocs.

The World and Herald both demand that no mercy be any longer shown to the treacherous Modocs and Gen. Sherman, in an order from the Headquarters of the United States Army at Washington City, telegraphs to Gen. Gillem, in command of the Modoc camp, that the Modocs will be fully justified in utterly exterminating the Modocs.

We will probably have lively scenes in the lava beds during the present week. We will have no more accounts of the peace commissioners' "talks" with Captain Jack.

The following is the conclusion of the World's editorial on the subject: "The result was what anybody but a born idiot or a besotted philanthropist might have foretold. The Modocs increased their pretensions as they saw that their adversaries abated theirs. They made more and more impudent demands of the five daily shows in the murder of Canby, and respected precisely the measure of their respect for the Government which was trucked to them. And it is precisely the respect to which the trucking of that Government has entitled it. We feel assured that General Canby was too true a soldier and too much of a man not to see the drift of the 'policy' which has resulted in his murder. But he was too true a soldier also to disobey orders, and they were issued by a man whose life, and whose they have cost him his life. This is no time for soft words. He was murdered by the Modocs. But the men on whose heads his blood remains comprise all the canting scoundrels in the country who have inveigled Grant into treating a pack of outlaws as if they were Sunday School children, and who have persuaded that foolish man to the brave man's death to death to please their maudlin wishes. We shall do our utmost to hold them responsible whenever they dare to lift their cackling voices again in behalf of an Indian peace policy."

The Nashua, N. H., papers tell story of a shameful brute in that city who squandered his savings upon a strange woman, and finally deserted his wife and five children, leaving them destitute. About the first of January, a sixth child was born, and since that time the poor woman has experienced the most cruel vicissitudes of life. She had no money, and although neighbors, who were knowing to her circumstances, did all they could for her relief, she has suffered for food and fuel. Last week the child died of starvation, and anybody said anything about the nineteenth century lady?

Several of the South American governments have requested the United States government to coin their money, the question of the right to do so has been submitted to the Attorney General. There are 8,000 post offices in the United States whose postmasters receive an annual salary of $13.

The Millionaire O'Leary who recently died in New York, started business with one shilling.

PURCHASE OF A EUROPEAN CITY.

An immense real estate purchase, similar to that of Samana, has just been concluded in Europe. The city of Pargis, situated on the Adriatic, half way between Corfu and the Greek mainland, with its territory, double harbor, 100,000 inhabitants, has been sold to the Greek Government.

A Greek banker, for well over 210,000,000 francs, is offering a singular illustration of the way in which some people gain influence and fortune. By birth an Albanian, Zographos was originally a merchant, who rose by his own energy and intelligence to the position of a Rothschild. Like all his co-religionists, his wealth to excellent uses. He not only contributes hundreds to every new school of church, but has a large collection of pictures, and a fine library of books, and is even a collector of antiquities.

Rev. John S. Long, formerly a prominent minister in the Methodist Church in North Carolina, is about entering the Episcopal ministry.

The Library of Congress has twice doubled within twelve years, and now numbers 250,000 volumes.

Col. Stephen Lee, of Asheville, says the Charlotte Southern Home, sent seven sons to the Confederate army, three of whom gave their lives for the cause of Constitutional liberty. Another son (Capt. W. F. Lee), lost his arm at Chancellorsville. The old gentleman, though over sixty at the outbreak of the war, volunteered himself and became a member of the 1st North Carolina Regiment. He discharged his arduous duties well and faithfully, until his health broke down utterly, when he became a member of the Home Guards and remained in service till Grantism was inaugurated at Appomattox. Col. Lee, the veteran is the father of Col. Charles Lee whose memory is precious in North Carolina, and the uncle of General Stephen D. Lee. He is a Christian gentleman of the old school, a chivalier without fear and without reproach. The type of the former civilization of the South. We will never again have the same class of noble men and women. We earnestly hope that their memory will be cherished.

Receivership of the Western North Carolina Railroad.

GREENSBORO, April 14, 1873.

The Federal Court at 10 o'clock this morning in the Odd Fellows' Hall, Judge Dick presiding.

The case in the matter of Receivership of the Western North Carolina Railroad was entered into, taking up a greater portion of the morning. A motion was made before the Judge by the Howerton Board, to discontinue the Receivership and turn the effects over to the de jure Board—Howerton.

The question of default at Asheville, and other matters unconnected with and irrelevant to the motion before the Court, were discussed at great length by the counsel on each side—the anti-duty being nearly taken up in discussing the matter. The Judge decided that a receiver was necessary, and after the names of Col. Buford, Col. Tate and Mr. Walton were suggested for his Honor to select from, he appointed Maj. W. A. Smith as the Receiver of the Road. After the appointment of the Receiver, half of the quarters of an hour was spent in discussing the fees of the counsel who were employed, which will be decided Tuesday.

The Court then adjourned till 10 o'clock tomorrow.

The Price of Tea. A communication, corresponding with Long Kong, says that tea is rapidly advancing in price in the Chinese market. The duty taken off tea a year ago, four per cent, on the cost of tea in bond in New York, but it has only resulted in saving about ten per cent on the retail prices. It is regarded as tolerably certain that when the next season for purchasing tea in China arrives, it will be found that a sum nearly equal to the duty repaid by us, and which amounts in the aggregate to seven million seven hundred thousand dollars, will be added to the price of tea in this way or another.

The Earthquake at San Salvador.

of the Particulars of the Disaster.

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin publishes a private letter from San Salvador giving the following details of the first appearance of the earthquake:

"SAN SALVADOR, March 8, 1873.—For a few days slight shocks of earthquake had occurred, but no serious apprehensions were entertained. It was on the afternoon of the 4th of March, after an early dinner, at which I had taken a glass of sherry to the re-inauguration of President Guzman, at about 4 o'clock, the children, merrily romping in the grounds, Miss S. and Maggie, superintending the removal of the dinner-table, and I quietly smoking a cigar upon our porch, when, within thirty seconds, not only our house, but a great part of the city was reduced to a little more than ruin. Suddenly, in a twinkling, the ground heaved as the deck of a ship in a gale, walls tottered, and were rent in many places, with wide crevices, roofs sank, and tiles, &c., were precipitated to the ground; lamps, pitchers, basins, glass, &c., were overturned and broken.

Three violent shocks followed in succession, and the servants began to scream piteously, and could not be pacified. The most singular effect was that upon the dumb animals. Wild birds flew to the houses, the horses grew frantic in the stables, and the dogs, howling, slunk towards us for protection. Although I was not conscious of personal fear, it was noticeable that every one's face grew ashy pale. It might have been the intense excitement, and from the fact that no human means for preservation were available.

Miss S., with admirable presence of mind, seized the children and hurried them to the "patio," or open courtyard, Maggie aided, with prayerful ejaculations, and I am afraid that I fired something of a volley of words at the native servants, who yelled, as I thought, before human capacity. Every few minutes shakings of less violence occurred, and I made a dash for the street; and the scene beggars description. Ruined houses, panic-stricken people—men, women and children—fleeing to the fields with valuable hastily collected. Then the ringing of alarm bells and the beating of drums, calling all the soldiers under arms—for here murder and pillage accompany the confusion of wrecked earthworks, and as the frightened citizens leave the town dusky Indians from the forests prowl for prey into it, only checked by the bayonets of the government troops. These were posted in squads at short distances all over San Salvador, and a special guard posted in the front and rear of the legation.

General Bustamante, who happened to be in town, rode to me and said, "Schior, you must leave with your family, very much fear, the whole place will be leveled in the night." And what was to be done? The most perilous place was under a roof. Darkness near at hand, and the country all in terror. Santa Tecla, or New San Salvador, is about ten miles distant from the capital. It is 800 feet high, and was thought to be more exempt from "temblores." Here I determined to seek refuge with the children.

None of us having dressed, we were obliged to start in our nightgowns. A council was held as to what was next to do. The majority of the population had fled from San Salvador, and all said that Santa Tecla would now be over-crowded. So I thought me of Mr. B.—'s estate, Monte Cristo, which must be within a few miles. For this, then, we travelled—some on horseback, others afoot, as on the night before, and, clambering over the mountains, reached our destination in time for a 12 o'clock breakfast.

As we entered their grounds in our ungraceful, some three on a horse, and all begrimed with dust, good Mrs. B.—indulged in a hearty German laugh, and, bidding us a warm welcome, added that they had just an hour before sent an express rider to the city, with a letter telling us to come to them at once.

SAN SALVADOR, March 10.—I open the letter to add that although the "temblores" continued, not much additional damage has occurred. We are yet at Monte Cristo, as it is hardly safe yet for the children to return. I came in today to close my correspondence for the steamer, and, mid fallen roofs and the debris of broken walls and chimneys, write this in the legation office. The British Consulate is in total ruin, and many other houses.

At 8 this morning there was another heavy earthquake. No loss of lives in the whole of them.

Ku Klux Cases at Statesville and Asheville.

I have information from official sources, which authorizes me to say, that, if defendants in Ku Klux cases do not attend the U. S. Courts at Statesville and Asheville at the next terms, no forfeitures will be enforced, if the parties will give bonds on recognizance before a U. S. Commissioner within 90 days after these Courts, for their appearance at the Fall terms.

None of the defendants in these Ku Klux cases need go to Statesville or Asheville at the approaching terms of U. S. Courts.

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 9, 1873.

HON. PLATO DURHAM, SIR:—Your favor of yesterday just received. Certainly no instructions have been given to Deputies from my office by me to execute Ku Klux papers, except Sci. Fas. Scroggins surely misunderstands me.

I have, to-day, written him, and ordered him personally to return to my office in Raleigh all copies and Subpoenas in Ku Klux cases, not executed. I hope this will be done without fail. I regret very much that he commenced work again on them, which was contrary to understanding and instructions from me. He will report to me of the matter. Yours truly,

GUANO GUANO GUANO

BUY THE BEST.

SOLUBLE SEA ISLAND GUANO.

State Fair Premium at Wilmington for the Largest Amount of Cotton on an Acre.

GOLDSBORO, Wayne County, N. C., November 23rd, 1872.

DEAR SIR:—The Soluble Sea Island Guano purchased of you this season was used by the side of three others, and has given me more satisfaction than any of the others. The Soluble Sea Island Guano was the one used upon the acre of land upon which my son raised the cotton upon which he took his state premium for the greatest amount entered for the largest amount of cotton to the acre, premium open to all ages, he would have also taken that premium, bearing all 150 lbs. I am better pleased with it than any other Guano I have ever used on cotton, and I shall use it in preference to all others next season for my cotton crop.

Very respectfully, J. H. GREEN.

ALSO EIGHT PREMIUMS AT WAYNE COUNTY FAIR.

The Amount of Seed Cotton made on an Acre of Upland by Mr. Granger was Three Thousand Six Hundred and Thirty-three Pounds.

EDGEcombe County, N. C., December 12th, 1872.

Messrs. R. W. L. RAISON & Co., Raleigh:—I bought of Messrs. Branch, Herbert & Co., last Spring, one ton of your Soluble Sea Island Guano for myself and three tons for other parties, and I find them all well pleased with it, and say it is the best Guano I have ever used. I am better pleased with it than any other Guano I have ever used on cotton, and I shall use it in preference to all others next season for my cotton crop.

Very respectfully, J. H. GREEN.

SELMMA, N. C., November 12th, 1872.

W. H. AVERA, Esq.:—The Soluble Sea Island Guano more than met my expectations. I consider it equal to Terraviva for cotton. It paid me over 10 per cent more than doubled the crop. My neighbors who bought it are highly pleased, and will use it in preference to any other when it can be had. Hope you will keep a supply the coming Spring.

Truly yours, R. HARE.

LOUISBURG, N. C., December 4th, 1872.

E. W. FULLER, Esq.:—Dear Sir:—I tested your Guano this year, and the result is, I will use it on my whole cotton crop next year.

Yours, C. ELLIS MALONE.

THE SONGS MY MOTHER USED TO SING.

BY MARY ANNIE K. REESE.

When Memory wakes her notes of cheer,
And through my heart her echoes ring,
How softly steal her Fancy's ear,
The songs my Mother used to sing!

When folded gently on her breast,
She sang the low, sweet lullaby,
That hushed my infant woes to rest.

In childhood hours, when sickness came,
And paled my little brow and cheek,
She sang the hymn that brought me home,
Kind words, o'er the wan and weak.

Dear Mother, in that helpless hour,
What consolation was thine!
To guard so carefully the flower
That health and bloom may yet be mine.

And life, and bloom, and hope were given,
O'er more my Mother sang and smiled,
Our home was like a cloudless heaven—
I grew a happy, healthy child!

Why do ye roll so swiftly by,
When fairer bloom the summer flowers,
And stars shine brighter in the sky?

Old time may pass her tireless wings,
And onward sweep with rapid flight,
Bearing earth's fairest, loveliest things,
Beyond the ken of mortal sight!

Yet memory's melody shall still be near—
I'll bid her sing each golden hour,
And once again shall charm my ear
The songs my Mother used to sing.

The flowers that round my pathway bloom,
The glorious stars that nightly shine,
May fade away in endless gloom—
But memory's gift shall still be mine.

And when the last dark hour shall come,
Her sweetest harmonies shall bring,
While angels wait to bear me home,
With songs my Mother used to sing.

How to prevent Hens from eating their eggs.—[From the Danbury News.]—The Country Gentleman suggests a way to prevent hens from eating their eggs. It is to fill an egg with a solution of pepper, and put the egg back in the nest. A Danbury man has tried this, and it works like a charm. He put a pretty good dose of pepper in the egg, and placed it in the nest of the criminal. Pretty soon the hen came around and took hold. It was a brindle animal, with long legs, somewhat concealed. It dipped in its bill and inhaled the delicacy. Then it came out doors. It didn't gallop out, we looked at the scenery, to see if it was going to rain. Its mouth was wide open, and the feathers on the top of its head straight up.

Then it commenced to go around the yard like a circus horse. Once in while it would stop and push out one leg in a tone of astonishment, and then holler "fire," and start on again. The other hens came out to look on. Soon the hens from the neighbors came over the fence, and took up a position of observation. It was quite evident the performance was something entirely new and unique to them. There is a good deal of human nature in hens. When they saw this hen dance around and have all the fun to itself, and heard it shout "fire," and couldn't see the conflagration themselves, they filled up with wrath, and of one accord sprang upon it, and before the Danbury man could interfere, the brindle hen with the long legs was among the things that were. He says the recipe is effective!

Is a sign board a vested right? This question is now before a Chicago court. There are in that city two hotels named the Briggs House, and each wants the other compelled to get married, or resort to some other device for having its name changed. The judge has the matter under advisement. The law of trademarks has doubtless been applied to similar cases before. We have of a pending law suit; but the assumption that "nobody can monopolize a hotel sign, a good law, is certainly modern law. A writer in the times of Charles I. in speaking of the hostilities of London at that time, says: "There are twenty King's Heads; five Bull's Heads; eight Nag's Heads; four Pope's Heads; thirty-three Maiden's Heads; thirteen Suns; ten Castles; five Angels and one Adam and Eve. Any such stupid repetition would work endless confusion in these days, however it might have been then.

INSURANCE.

THE CONNECTICUT MUTUAL

LIFE INSURANCE CO.

OF HARTFORD, CONN.

Annual Income, Nearly $10,000,000.00

This Company has steadily pursued two great practical ends:

FIRST.

To place its policies beyond the power of any contingencies.

SECOND.

To reduce the actual cost of its members for their policies to the lowest possible rate. To accomplish this, it allows him to retain from 20 to 30 per cent. of the first premium as a permanent credit or loan, and to retain from each subsequent premium that portion of the previous year's full premium actually proved to be surplus, so that at no time does the Company take from him a higher actual premium than is needed to carry the risk for the year, and provide the reinsurance fund. It is strictly mutual. Nothing is diverted to stockholders, and each member has his insurance at its exact cost to the Company. Its rate of expense has been from the beginning less than that of other companies.
